

Consent to the collection, use and retention of personal information

The Clinique juridique of the Barreau du Québec is open to the public. Closely supervised by seasoned lawyers, students at the École du Barreau (hereinafter “École”) may perform the following tasks:

- conduct interviews during legal consultations;
- perform legal research and draft legal documents;
- deepen their knowledge of negotiation and dispute prevention and resolution methods.

Personal information

École recognizes the importance of privacy and the sensitivity of the personal information you may share orally or in writing with students or supervising lawyers during legal consultations. This information includes your name, address, email address, telephone number, gender, employment information, health or any other information that, directly or indirectly, identifies you (your “Personal Information”).

How we handle and use your Personal Information

Automated and/or paper processing and use of your Personal Information will be limited to the purposes of the activities of the legal clinic and assessment of the students of the École by supervising lawyers and the École’s assessment committee, if applicable.

How long we keep your Personal Information

Unless otherwise authorized or required by applicable law or regulation, the École will keep your Personal Information only as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, , subject to the ethical and professional obligations of the supervising lawyers.

Reasonable security arrangements against risks

The École has put in place reasonable security arrangements against such risks as unauthorized access, collection, use, disclosure, copying, modification or disposal of your Personal Information.
